Christ Church Cathedral dates from early in the 12th century, having been then erected on the site of a religious house founded by St. Frideswide, a Saxon saint whose remains were interred therein. It was restored 1120-80, being further added to and elaborated in 1289 and 1480. Tom Tower is a portion of the adjacent Christ Church, which was erected in 1719. The famous "Great Tom" is hung here, the nightly curfew of which (101 strokes) is the signal for the closing of all college gates.
